

Fact 1: It Has Been a Park for 40 Years

The screenshot shows the DC Department of Parks and Recreation website. At the top left is the DC.gov logo with three stars and the name Mayor Muriel Bowser. A search bar at the top center contains the text "What are you looking for today?". Below the search bar are links for DC.gov and dpr.dc.gov. The main navigation menu includes "DPR Home", "Services", "Events & Programs", "Permits", "Parks & Facilities", "Get Involved", and "About DPR". The "Parks & Facilities" section is active, showing a "Listen" button and social media share options. A sidebar on the left lists "Find a Facility", "Find a Park" (with sub-links for Dog Parks, Local Parks, and National Parks), "Find a Pool", "Construction Updates", "Submit Maintenance Requests", and "Memberships and Passes". The main content area is titled "Local Parks" and contains text explaining that DPR manages hundreds of local parks and provides an interactive map. Below this text is a map of Cobb Park, which is highlighted in green. A red header bar above the map reads "Cobb Park". To the left of the map is a sidebar with the following information:

- Site Name: Cobb Park
- Address: 2nd St., Massachusetts Ave and H St., Washington DC
- Classification: Small Park

At the bottom left of the page, there is contact information for the Department of Parks and Recreation, including office hours (Monday to Friday, 8:30 am to 5:30 pm), a "Connect With Us" section with address (1250 U Street, NW, 2nd floor, Washington, DC 20009), phone number (202) 673-7647, fax number (202) 673-2087, TTY: 711, and email: dpr@dc.gov.

- Cobb Park created in 1970s as a result of Center Leg Freeway expansion

- District Department of Parks and Recreation identifies Cobb Park as a Small Park in its “Find a Park” search tool